Remember how it was in the fall of '58? As the opening day of school neared, students began preparations for the new year. The band and football team appeared for practices. Soon the first day rolled around. As the huge yellow buses came within sight of the school, everyone felt happy and excited. Friends shouted greetings and introduced each other to new students who would soon be as familiar as the old. None were spared the confusion of finding the right homerooms and learning the names of those new-found friends. Soon the first day was over, but the school year 1958-59 stretched ahead, fun-filled and inviting. Everyone knew that this year would be one to remember.

Our High School Days Fond Memories Do Linger...

UPPER RIGHT: Schedules are altered to fit our needs.

What do you remember most about your days at Shawnee High? Was it the sports, clubs, dramatics, or maybe the music program? Whatever our interests were, we still had many of the same things in common. Surely you haven't forgotten sitting in fourth period class waiting to be called to lunch, or trying to solve a difficult math problem in a noisy study hall. Remember the agonizing moments we all had before looking at our report cards? These events played an important part in all our school lives.

Little Things, Not Then Important,
Shall Never Be Forgotten. . .

Touchdowns, Hot Dogs, Mums, And Marching

Football games were the most important events of the early fall. Pep sessions near the end of the eighth period with stunts and cheers provided the spirit needed to spur the team on to victory. The crowds at the games on the chill autumn nights were thrilled with the colorful bands and drill teams as well as with the rough and tumble action of the games. Homecoming and Dads' Night were the "special ones", but for football fans any Shawnee game was something memorable.

UPPER RIGHT: Cheerleaders arouse school spirit.

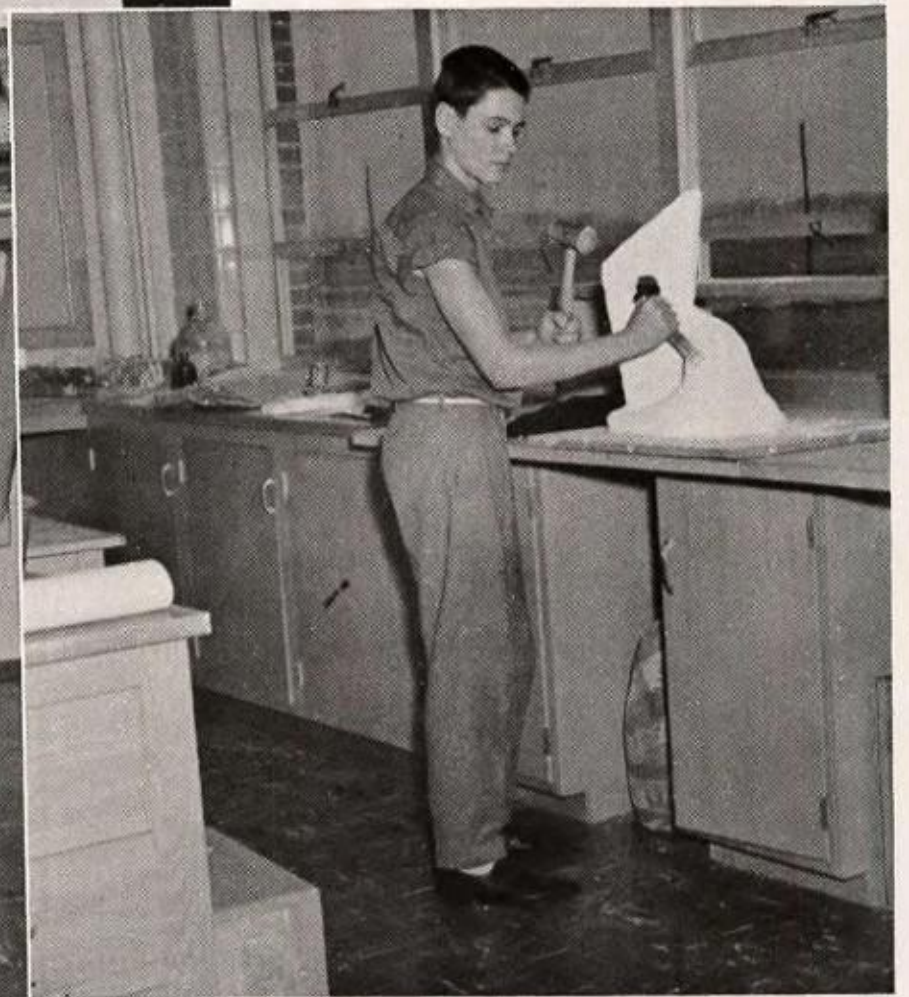

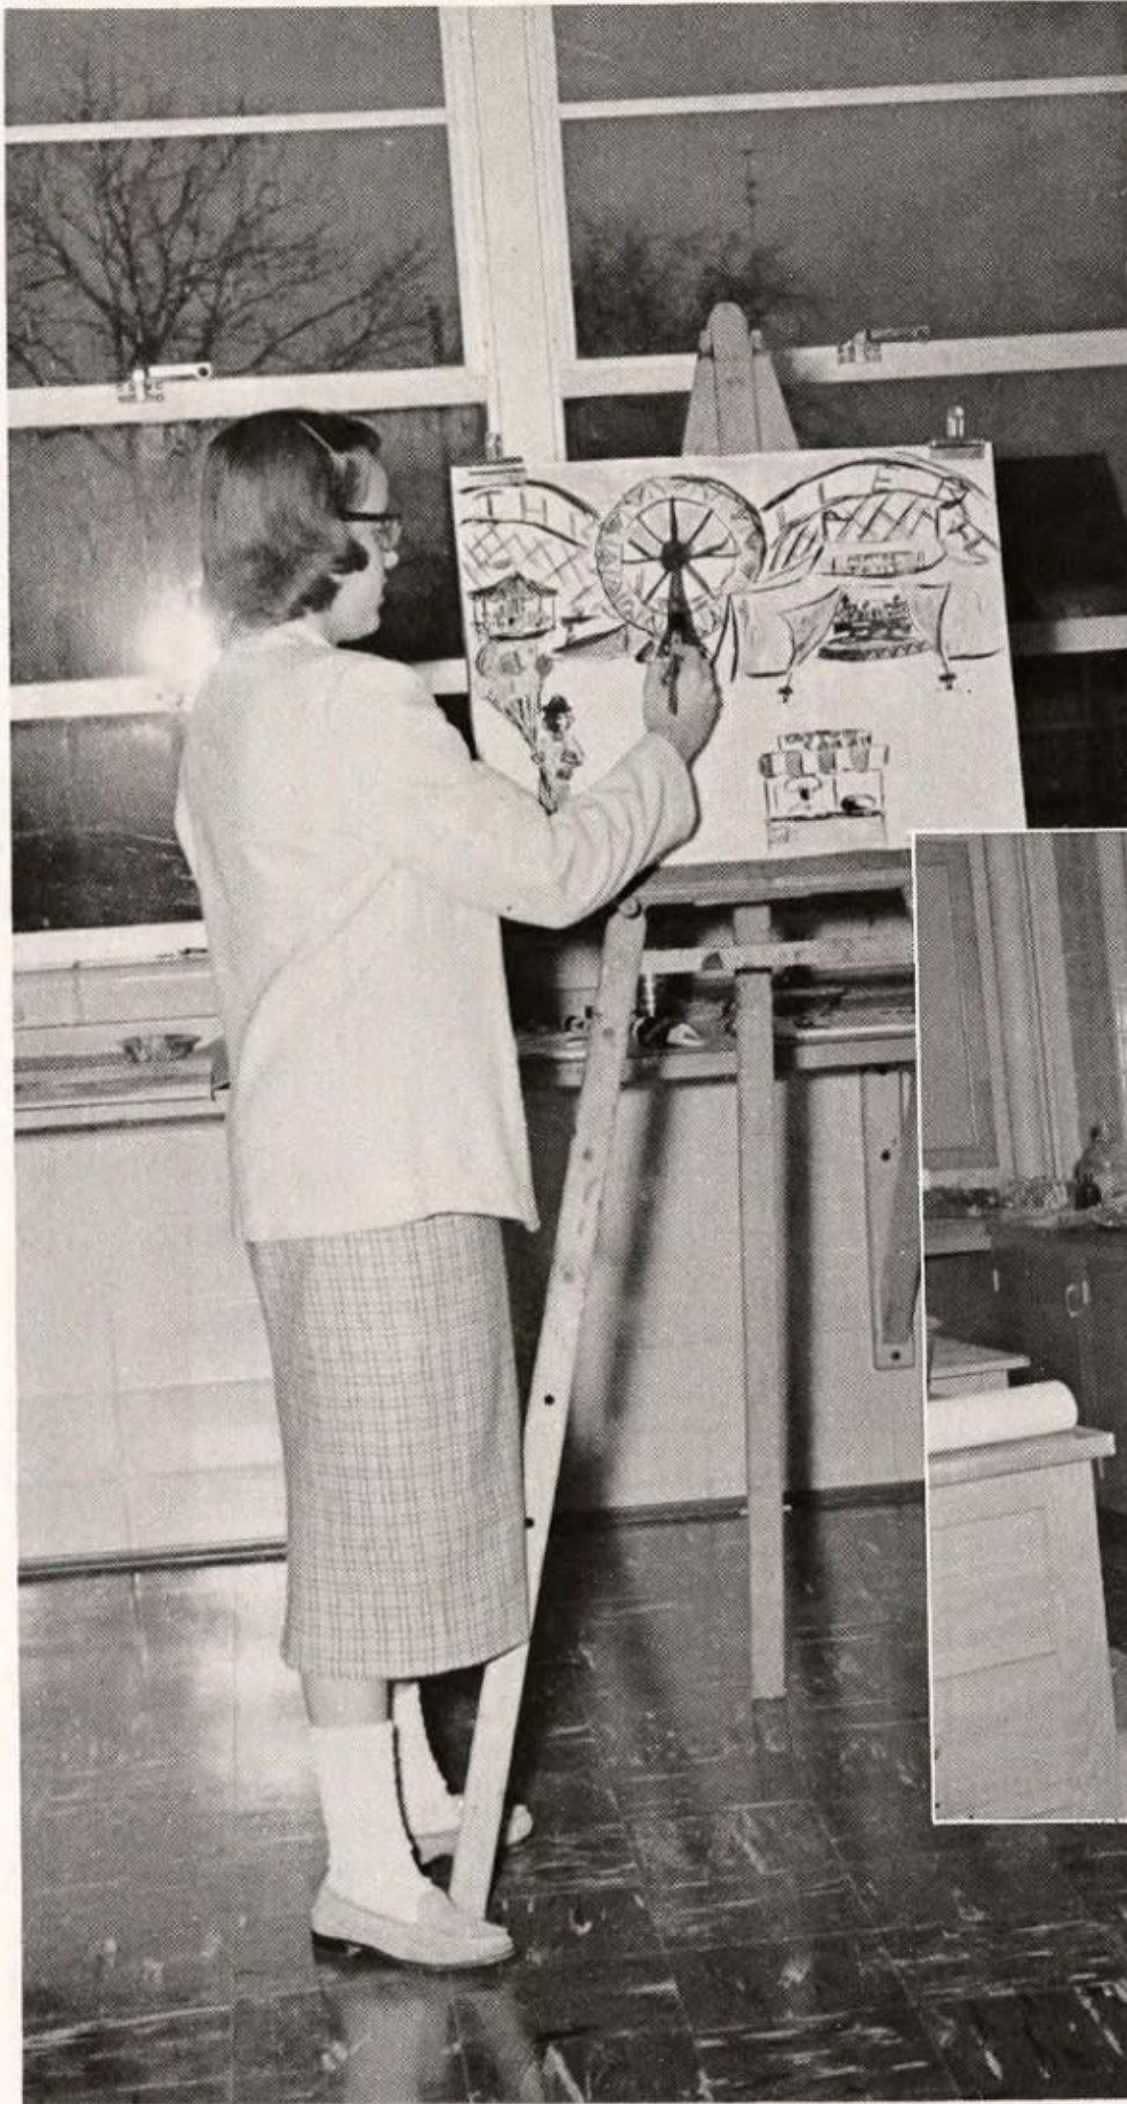

LOWER RIGHT: G.A.A. members earn extra points in concession stand.

BELOW: Eager fans prepare to enter the stadium.

Future Artists Built Strong Foundations

Looking over our days at Shawnee, we begin to realize the important part that Fine Arts played in our curriculum. We learned to appreciate the beauty of a well prepared painting, the strain of a symphony, the beat of modern jazz.

Any student with the desire to participate in musical activities had a place in the music program. Mr. Beckett led the vocal department, consisting of mixed chorus, glee clubs, A Cappella Choir; Mr. Sonntag had charge of the instrumental program, band and orchestra.

For the students who had artistic ability, our art classes offered fine opportunities to develop talent. The students worked on a variety of projects ranging from pottery to weaving. Miss Bonnoront ably instructed the art students.

We, who were in the vocational courses, look upon our days at Shawnee with many pleasant memories. We spent a great deal of our time gaining valuable experience for our future jobs. Life was varied and interesting as we worked on special projects such as making a chair, plowing a field, or sewing a pretty dress. Our training may not have seemed important then, but now it is indispensable.

We Trained For

Life's Occupation

Languages and Social Studies Were

Perhaps the students of Shawnee Senior High School spent more time in language and social studies classes than those of any other subjects.

At least three years of English were required for everyone. Book reports, diagramming, and literature are what we remember when we think of the study of our own language. Spanish and Latin were also a part of the curriculum. It was fun to learn to speak in the tongues of other countries.

Required for Graduation

Government, American history, world history, and civics made up the social studies department. In government and civics we learned the workings of national, state, and local governments. The study of American and world history taught us the story of our country and of the growth of civilization.

Extra Classes Rounded School Life

Physical education, health, drivers' training, and other special classes were also important to our educations. Both boys and girls were required to take gym and health. These courses taught us the care and workings of our own bodies.

Other nonacademic courses, however, were elective. In drivers' training we learned the skills of driving a modern car. The knowledge we received will be useful throughout our lives.

Our guidance program under the direction of Mr. W. D. Shackelford assisted Shawnee students in looking toward the future. Guidance assemblies held throughout the school-year helped us decide upon our careers-to-be.

The main event in the guidance program, however, was the annual College Night. Representatives from colleges, universities, and schools throughout Ohio came to Shawnee to give junior and senior students from area high schools information concerning higher education.

Testing was a part of the guidance program, too. Aptitude tests told students for what line of work they were suited. College entrance and general scholarship tests were given to upperclassmen.

Guidance included many things, each working toward one end — to fit each person to his right life's work.

Mr. Shackelford explains a possible future career to Douglas Robinson.

What will our memories be? It seems the pace of living is ever on the increase. Changes in modes of living; materials used in living-yes, even ideals of living are coming with lightning rapidity. The schools of the next few decades will no doubt be much different from those of the present. Your memories as students will be of the happy associations with your classmates. Your memories of your teachers, some of the things you look upon as hardships now, will in the future be remembered as blessings in disguise.

The Class of 1959 long will be remembered as one possessing contagious enthusiasm, school spirit, outstanding leadership, and a remarkable record of varied achievement.

Decorating for their prom, "Heaven on Earth", financing and building the beautiful homecoming float, presenting P. A. skits such as "The Great Sales Tax Robbery", drafting a class constitution, cheerleading pep stunts, disc jockeying the dances, and footprinting the terrazzo-all proved their creative ability and indicated consistent desire to travel "first cabin".

Academically able, many members ranked high among the state's scholars. Musically adept, they formed the nucleus of Shawnee's best band.

The class erected high standards of accomplishment, shared its fun, work, and success, showing it had heart; all contributed to proving that living is the best part of getting ready to live.

The Juniors Have Their Eyes On The Stars.

Ranking high as a class, the juniors found themselves having a high successful year electing their candidate, Nancy Brooks Carnival Queen, presenting their play, a seventeenth century classic, "Gammer Gurton's Needle", and working hard to raise funds for their all-important prom.

Members of this class could be found holding offices in organizations, playing varsity sports, and representing the music department. They were a prosperous and hard working class, looking toward their last year at Shawnee.

The class of '61 will long remember their sophomore year. The arrival of the Perry students brought many new friends and increased their enrollment to make them the largest class in the history of the school.

Composed of 202 eager, hard-working students, this class has nearly all of its members in school organizations, taking active part both as leaders and as followers.

As the sophomores are progressing rapidly and looking forward to the time when they will graduate, they are also accepting new responsibilities and preparing themselves to be good members of their communities.

Freshmen Encounter Many Experiences.

New and varied experiences challenged the members of the freshman class in their first year of high school. It was an exciting year for all, full of new-found friends and novel sensations. Class activities, school organizations, and academic studies new to the Class of '62 were eagerly accepted by the enthusiastic frosh.

Some freshmen adapted quickly to the new environment; for others, to whom adjustment came with more difficulty, the first year provided a bewildering array of strange faces and unfamiliar experiences.

As the year progressed, however, it became readily apparent that each freshman had passed the initial "trial by fire" and could take his place in the time-honored Shawnee tradition.

Homecoming Court Witnesses Gridiron Victory

The 1958 Homecoming ceremony opened with a snappy pre-game show presented by the marching band. Then the magic moment arrived as the royal cavalcade began. Past queens Jacqueline Eicher, 1957, and Darlene Downhower Heffner, 1954, entered the field in a gleaming white convertible. Then all eyes centered on the Homecoming court seated upon the senior class's magnificent float as it was drawn slowly onto and across the field, accompanied by the Stepettes.

The float moved to the center of the field and drew to a halt. Escorts arrived to assist the queen and her attendants down the red carpet to the coronation, where senior class president, Ron Bell, presented a short congratulatory address.

The ceremony was climaxed as Russ Glover, varsity football captain, crowned Connie Cisco 1958 Homecoming Queen. Queen Connie was chosen by the student body from candidates nominated by the varsity football squad. Attendants Sue Van Meter and Nancy Yingling, escorted by Dick Reed and John King, completed the royal court.

A hard-fought victory over Celina by the football team doubled the excitement of the evening. After the game Queen Connie and her court reigned at the Homecoming Dance sponsored by the Student Senate. As the dance ended and the evening drew to a close, the 1958 Homecoming became a pleasant memory.

Gala 1958 Carnival

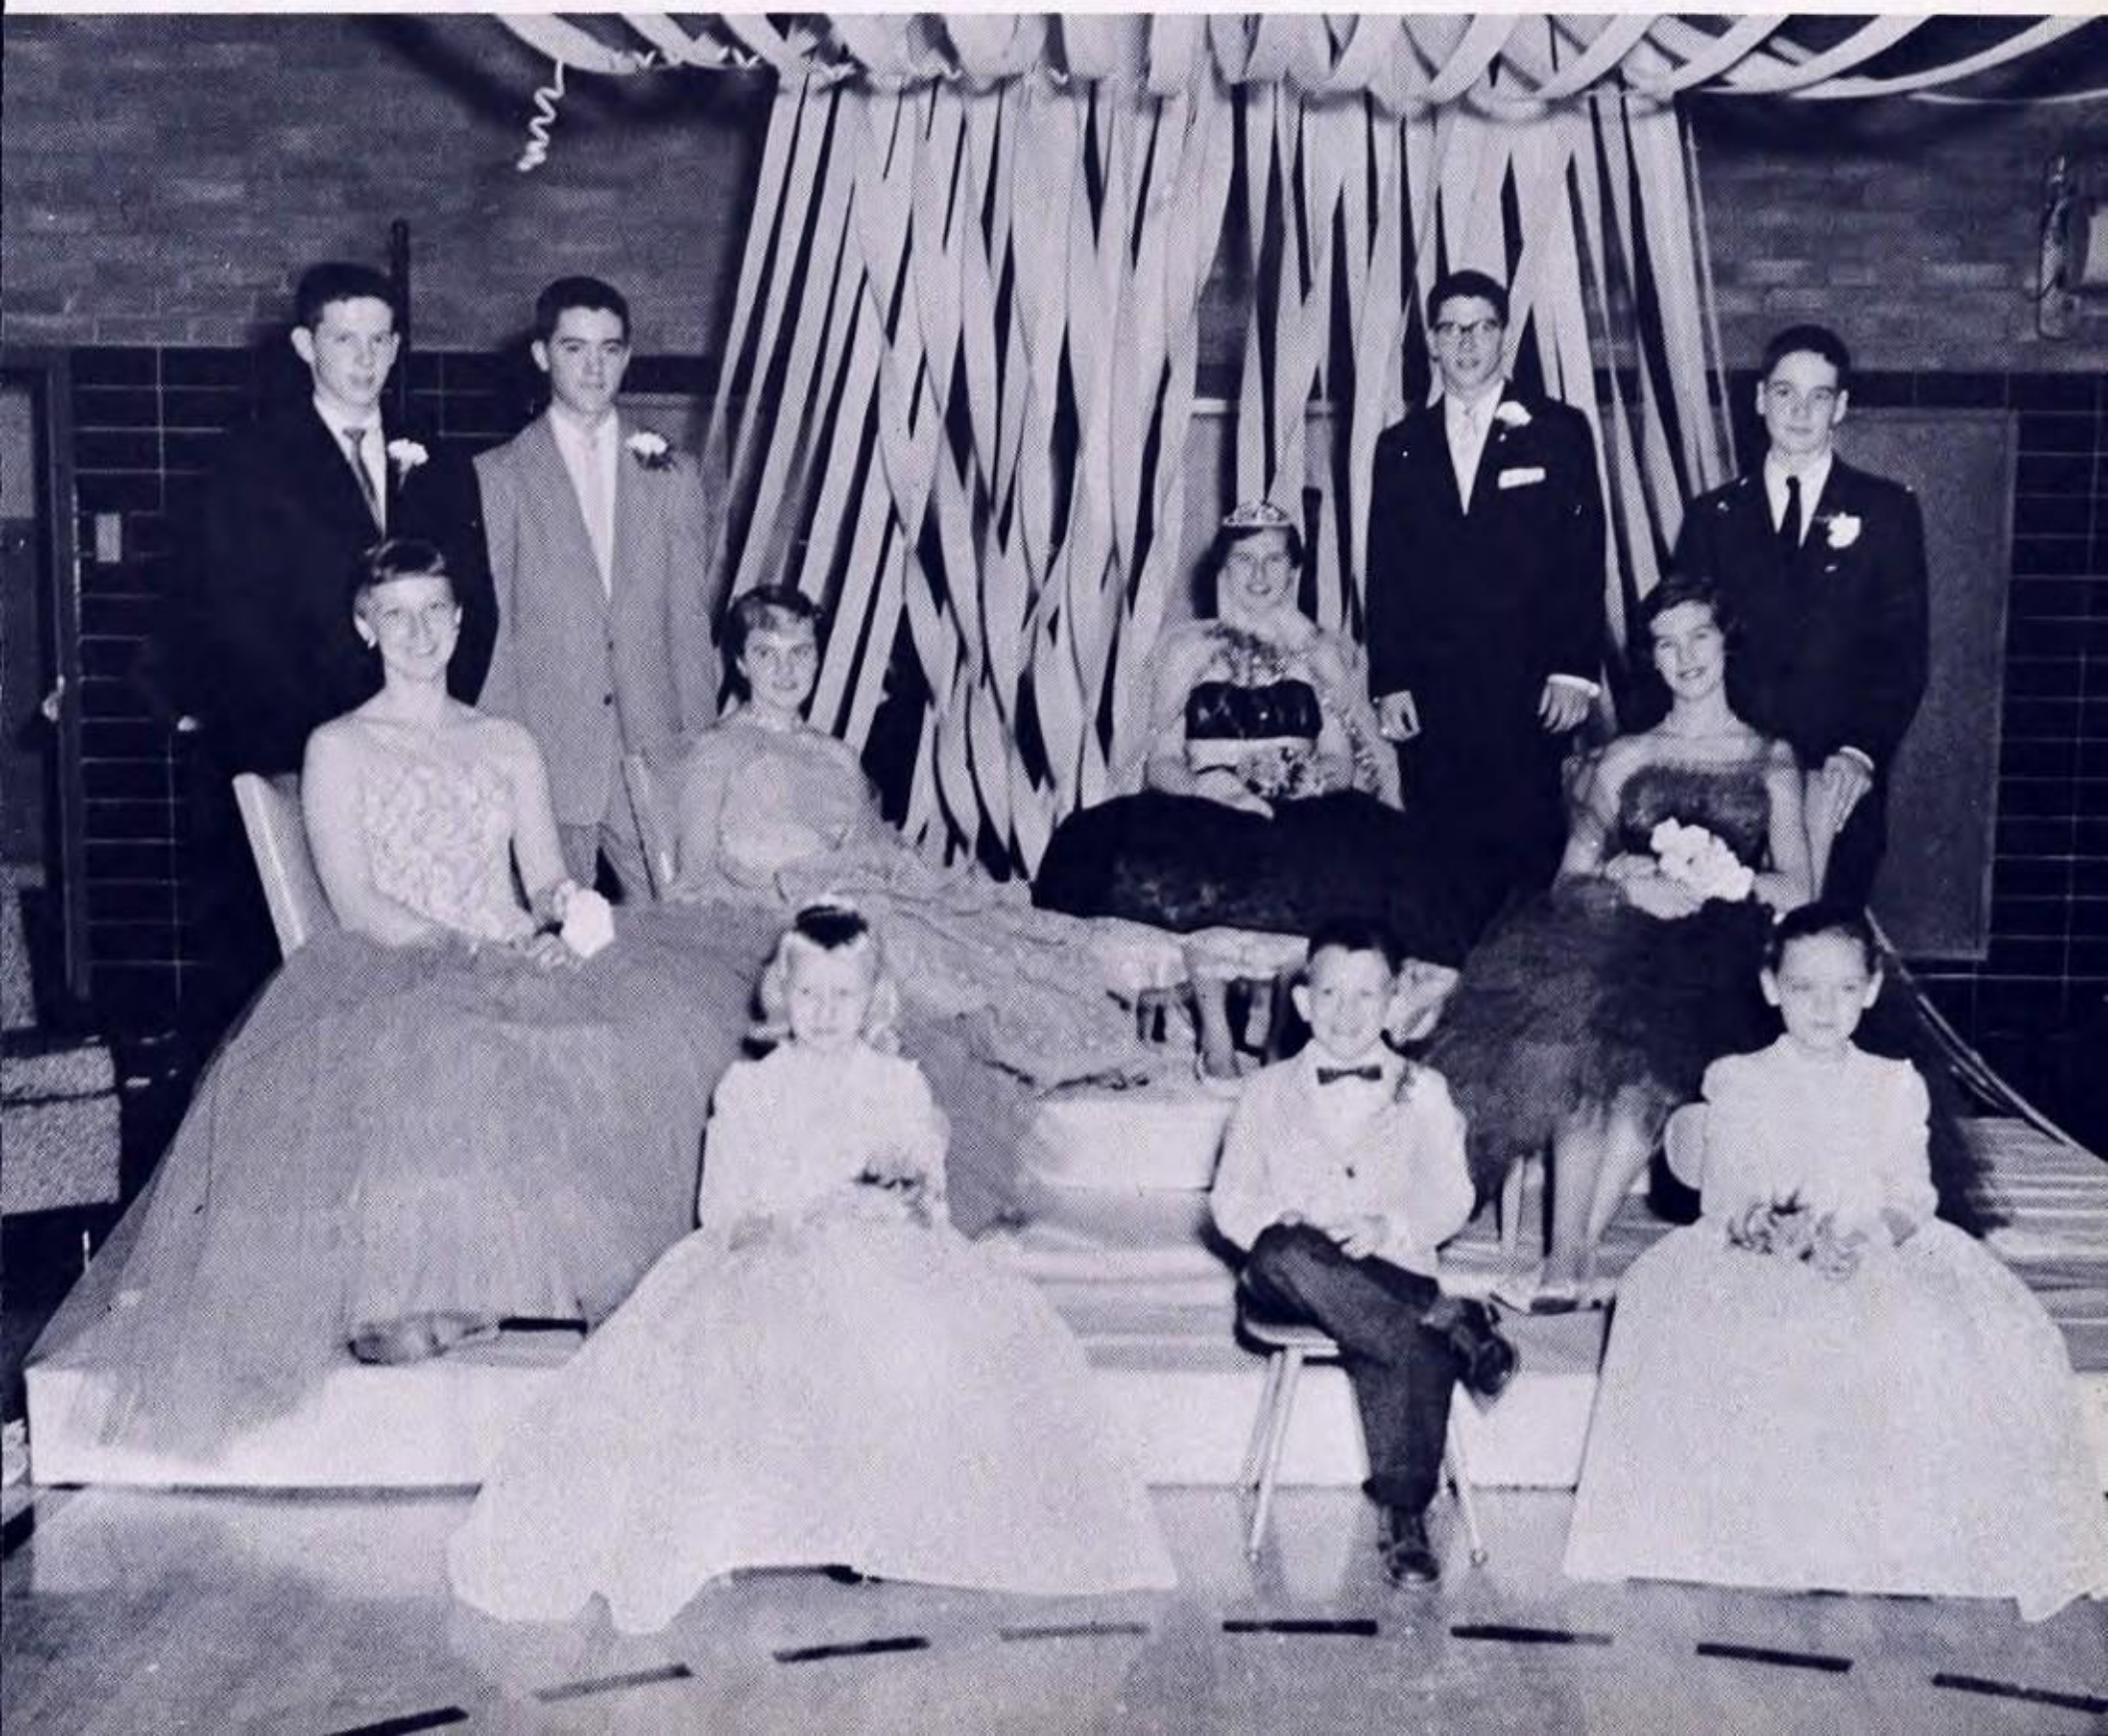

Gay crowds packed the junior high school and garage to visit the many midway and sideshow attractions of the 1958 Carnival. Queen candidates with their escorts mixed with thronged carnivalgoers in a spirit of festive gaiety. Midway activity on the part of all classes was feverish as representatives sought last-minute contributions for their candidates.

A capacity audience jammed Lappin Gymnasium for the main show as the high point of the evening drew near. The attention of everyone was centered on the entrance when the queen candidates and their escorts were announced. Energetic activity by the junior class won charming Nancy Brooks the title of 1958 Carnival Queen. Escorted by junior class president, Joe Edwards, Queen Nancy was crowned by Assistant Superintendent O. C. Knecht.

Carnival Queen attendants and their class president escorts were: Miss Senior, Judie Stiner, and Ron Bell; Miss Sophomore, Linda Greer, and Phil Krouskop; and Miss Freshman, Betsy Larsen, and Mike Oram. Train bearers Debora Weaver and Pamela Lewis with crown bearer Randy Shock completed the royal court.

Queen Nancy reigned over the Carnival as a gala variety show was presented to climax the evening.

Gammer Gurton's Needle

Gammer Gurton's Needle, a sixteenth century farce, was presented by the Junior Class on Thursday, December 4.

In the play, Carole Dickerson, who took the leading role of Gammer, was a frail old woman who, despite her frail looks, was fairly strong. Gammer owned the only needle in town. Problems arose when this needle mysteriously disappeared. Neighbor was pitted against neighbor in an effort to place blame for the loss. Diccon was the villain in the plot, but patience was finally rewarded, and Hodge's trousers were repaired when the precious needle was found.

Students Govern Selves Through Student Senate

In its fifth year of service to the student body, the Shawnee Student Senate is growing into a mature organization. Believing that wise self-government is essential, the student body is learning to solve its problems through class representation. Continuous striving for increased wisdom in the senate's actions has given a new sense of pride to the Shawnee Indian.

Quilna Provides Lasting Memories of Shawnee

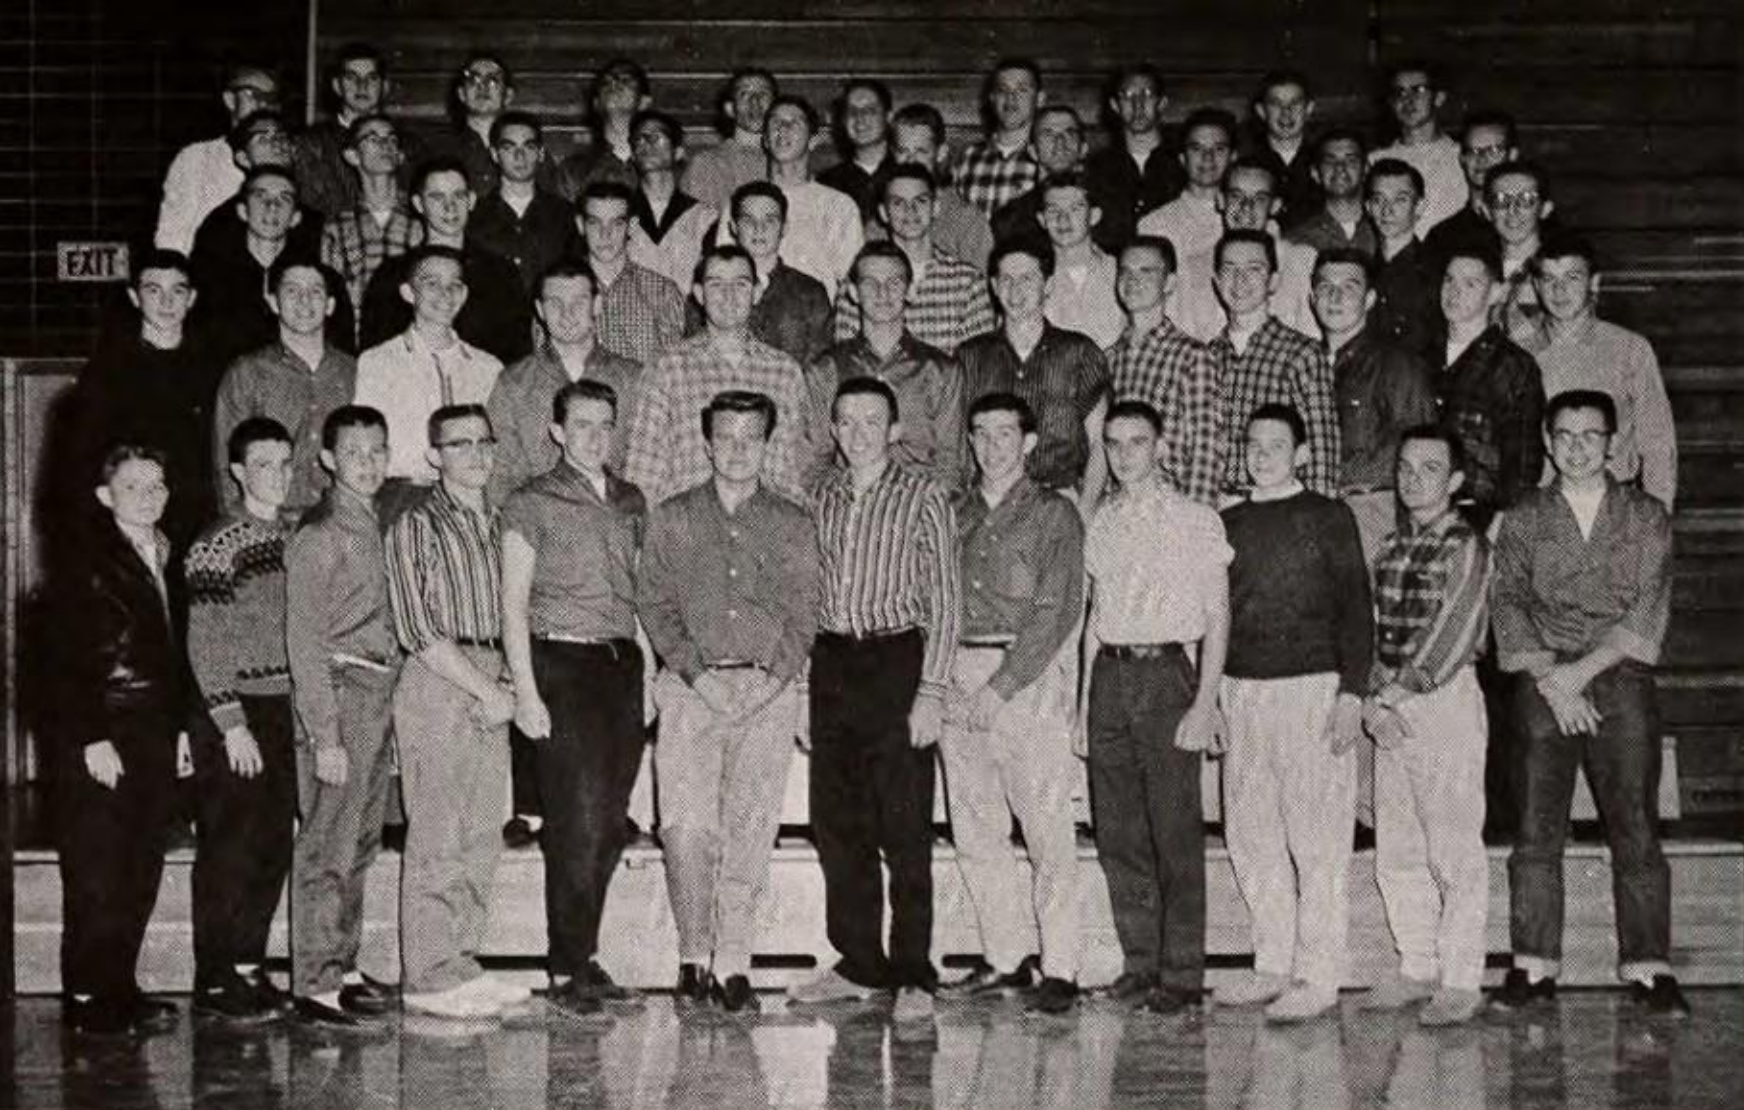

Esther Faccenda, Business Manager; Miss Gorman, Advisor.

Each school year brings countless treasures. Many will be used at once; others will be saved for use over a lifetime. It is in this belief that the Quilna staff has decided to save memories for you. In every way possible, the heart of our school will be kept beating in the pages of the 1958-59 Quilna. The students are the heart of Shawnee; these memories are yours; this book is yours.

The Hi-Y Strives To Promote High Christian Standards

The Hi-Y, affiliated with the Y.M.C.A, is composed of two clubs, Beta Upsilon and Beta Pi. Beta Upsilon is comprised of junior and senior boys, and Beta Pi is comprised of freshman and sophomore boys. The main objective of these clubs is to instill Christian character into the lives of their members. The Bible is their guide.

During the year the Hi-Y sponsored a hayride and several dances. The proceeds from one of them, the March of Dimes Dance, went to charity. They also organized several basketball teams which played other Hi-Y teams in the area. As their chief money making project, they raffled off cakes at each home basketball game.

"To grow as a person in the knowledge and love of God" is the aim of every Y-Teen member. Through their interesting meetings and programs, the members try to realize the highest ideals of personal and social living. This club undertook many difficult projects including sending four girls to New York for a United Nations study trip, adopting an orphan, and sponsoring the annual Christmas formal dance.

The primary aim of the Future Farmers of America is the development of agricultural leadership, cooperation, and citizenship.

During the summer several members attended the State F.F.A. convention, and they exhibited projects at the county and state fairs.

F H A Strives For Better Homemaking

Miss Patterson and Miss
Howenstine, Advisers

Shawnee Future Homemakers of America are dedicated to the promotion of better family living. The club had several interesting meetings during the year, including a panel discussion on "dating", a "stunt night" to which their parents were invited, a taffy pull, and a beauty demonstration. Members spent an entertaining day enjoying the Ice Follies at Troy, Ohio. In order to raise money, the girls sold mums for the homecoming game and candied apples at the school carnival. They worked hard to make their annual spring F.H.A. and F.F.A. banquet a success.

To provide an opportunity for students to construct projects and to pursue hobbies which require more elaborate equipment than would otherwise be available, the Industrial Arts Club was established. The highlight of the year was a trip to Chicago where members toured the Museum of Science and Industry. Several members constructed model cars to compete with other boys throughout the nation in the Fisher Body Contest.

Librarians Rendered Valuable Service

A school's library is the center of its culture, learning, and entertainment. It needs well trained librarians to unlock the treasures available. Under the direction of Mrs. Bright, interested students gained valuable experience and helped to open the doors of further knowledge to classmates and teachers alike.

Filing catalog cards and checking entrance permits keep student librarians busy.

Lighting Adds To Amateur Dramatics

The lighting crew's job is to create the correct mood and effects for class plays and other stage performances. This is accomplished by the setting, intensity, and color of the lights. Boys trained in stage effects are on hand at every performance following a carefully planned program. Under the direction of Mr. Ross, this group added much to the quality of Shawnee's dramatic productions.

Audio-Visual... Valuable Aid To Teaching

Some of the more popular developments of modern technology — motion pictures, strip films, and recordings — have a prominent place in the classroom. Under the direction of Mr. Blauvelt, several interested students have learned to operate projectors and taperecorders. These students aid teachers in the classroom and are on hand in the audio-visual room to set up equipment any period of the day,

Harmony Is The Keynote

Blending harmoniously, the voices of the members of the A Cappella came ringing through the halls of S. H. S. during first period all year. Under the competent direction of Mr. Beckett, the choir performed for the Optimists, the P.T.A., and the entire student body in a beautiful Christmas program. As spring drew near, every minute of rehearsal was devoted to the preparation of numbers for the annual "Spring Sing" and district contest.

A Cappella members have the distinction of belonging to one of Shawnee's large honorary organizations. Down through the years they have built a tradition of fine vocal music at Shawnee and this year was certainly no exception.

When sounds of the silvery flute and the deep bass viol come floating through the corridors, everyone knows the orchestra is practicing for another appearance. This Shawnee musical organization provides entertainment before and between the acts of the junior and senior class plays. It also is on hand for the solemn occasions of Baccalaureate and Commencement. Much practice is required to produce the quality of music which is typical of this group.

Band And New Director

Long before the opening day of school, the members of the Shawnee marching band could be found out on the football field on a summer evening preparing for their first performance—the Olympics. Once classes resumed, early morning practices and fourth period rehearsals also started. Throughout the season the marching band displayed the results of many hours of practice and hard work. When the football games were all over, the members regretted the end of the season but looked forward to playing in concert band and participating in the spring contests. In the “Midwinter Concert” the band climaxed its efforts with a fine presentation of instrumental accomplishment.

Majorettes

A band just wouldn't seem like a band if it wasn't led by a group of talented and pretty majorettes. Vivacious Judie Stiner, Drum Majorette, led the other twirlers and the band in practices, football shows, and parades. With a "Line that rank!" and a "Forward march!" the high stepping majorettes kept the band in precision.

Stepettes

Shawnee's all girl drill team kept pace with the band in providing the football fans with wholesome entertainment at half time. But the work of the Stepettes wasn't finished with the last game. They also provided entertainment for the crowd at the Carnival Main Show and for basketball fans at one of the home games. Led by Carol Crocker and advised by Miss Joan Shepard, the drill team had a profitable year.

Three Indians Receive All-League Honors

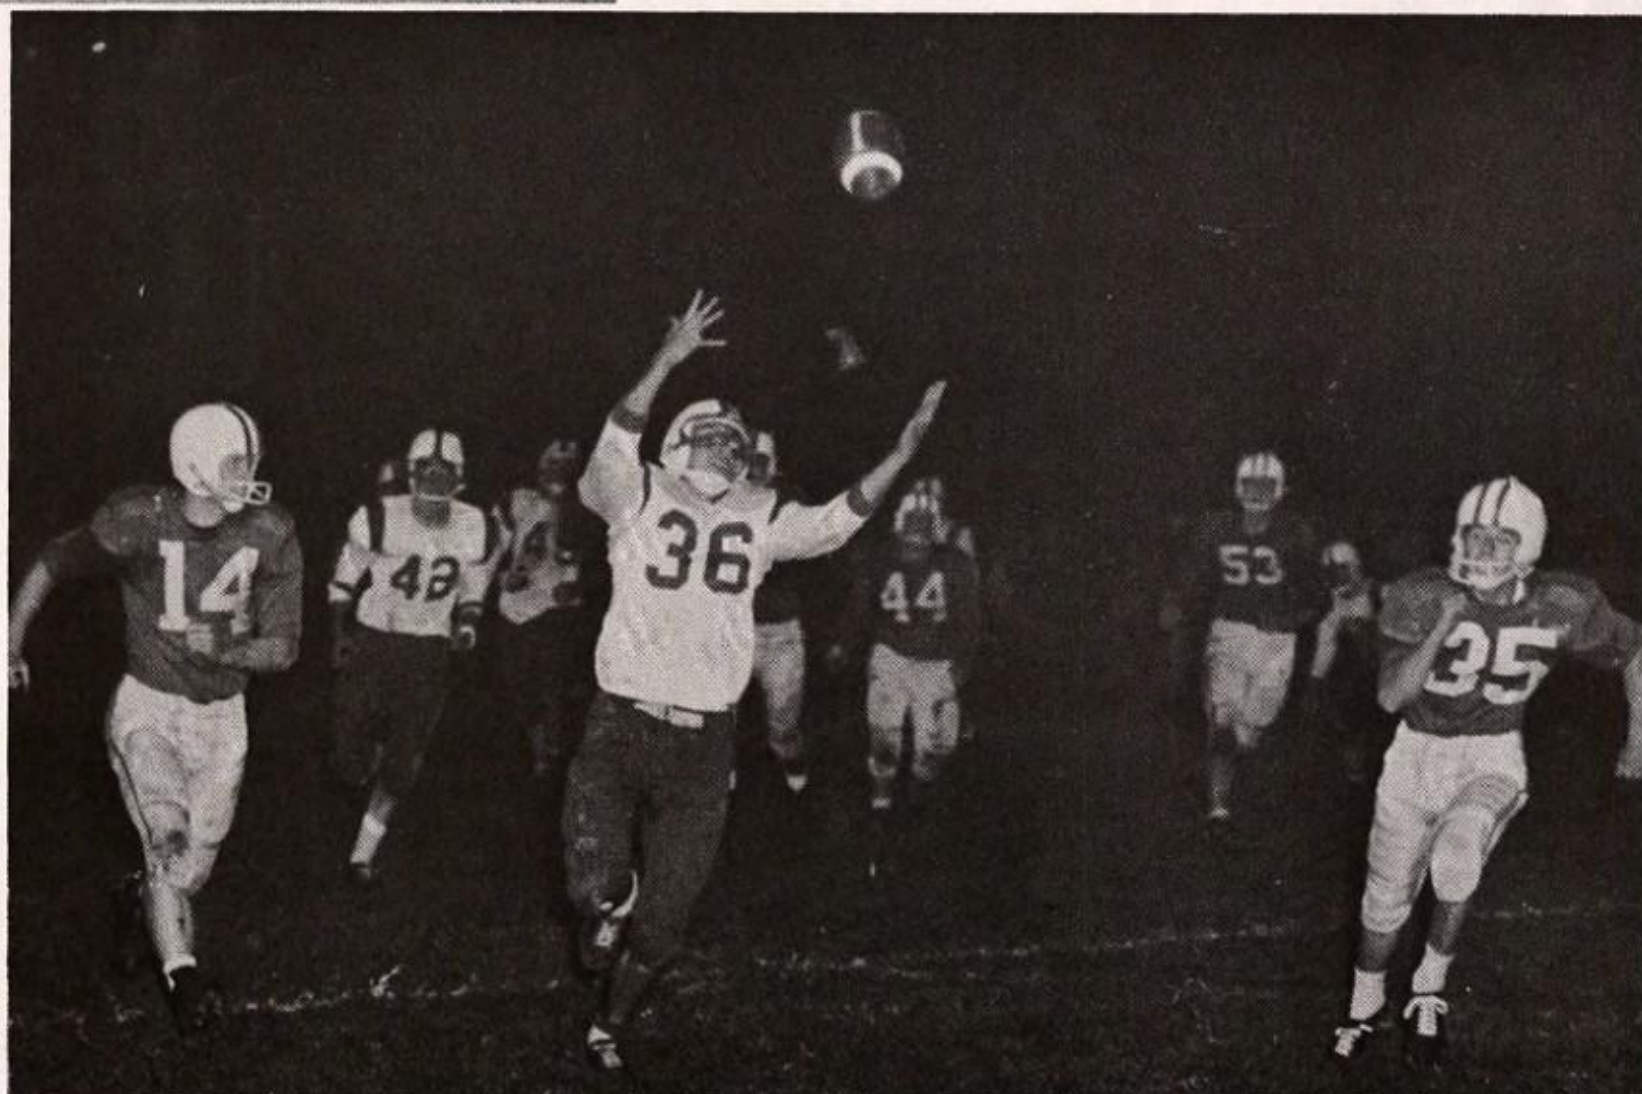

Three top grid stars from Shawnee's 1958 football squad were chosen for the Western Buckeye All-League teams. These players were picked on the basis of playing ability and were given positions on either the offensive or defensive teams. Other highly rated players were given honorable mention on one team or the other.

Jay Linhart, offensive left end and defensive halfback, was picked as end on the offensive team. Two gridders, Dick Reed, guard and tackle on offense and defensive end, and Larry Baker, offensive halfback and defensive linebacker, were selected for the defensive unit; Dick was chosen as end and Larry as linebacker.

Willis Riemesch received honorable mention as guard on both the offensive and defensive teams.

A Year Of Challenge For The Varsity

The 1958 football squad, which was built around eleven returning letterman, was hampered by injuries all season, but finished the season with 4 wins and 5 losses, and a 3-3 record in Western Buckeye League play. This record enabled them to tie for second place in the league.

The season opened with a 0-0 tie in the Lima Olympia and then the Indians were trounced by Sidney. They recovered to beat Coldwater in a non-league tilt and followed with a win over Bellefontaine. The Tribe, playing one of its best games of the season, lost a hard-fought battle to Van Wert, 14-0.

After the Van Wert game the Indians won two games and lost three. They beat Celina and Wapakoneta while losing to St. Marys, Kenton, and Lima Central Catholic.

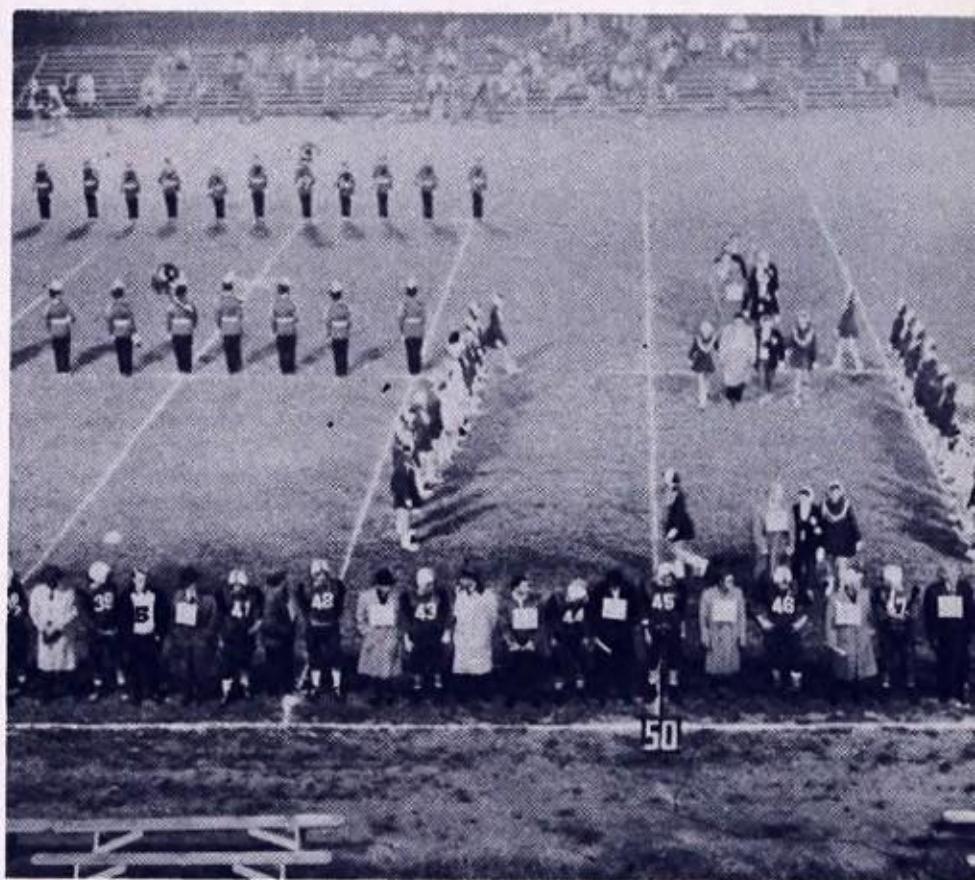

The varsity squad elected fullback Russ Glover to the position of captain of the 1958 football team.

Dads' Night Honors The Men Behind The Players

October 31 was set aside as Dad's Night, an annual event at Shawnee. The Indians played host to the Kenton Wildcats that evening.

Before the game the fathers of the players, coaches, managers, and cheerleaders lined up on the field and were introduced with their sons or daughters.

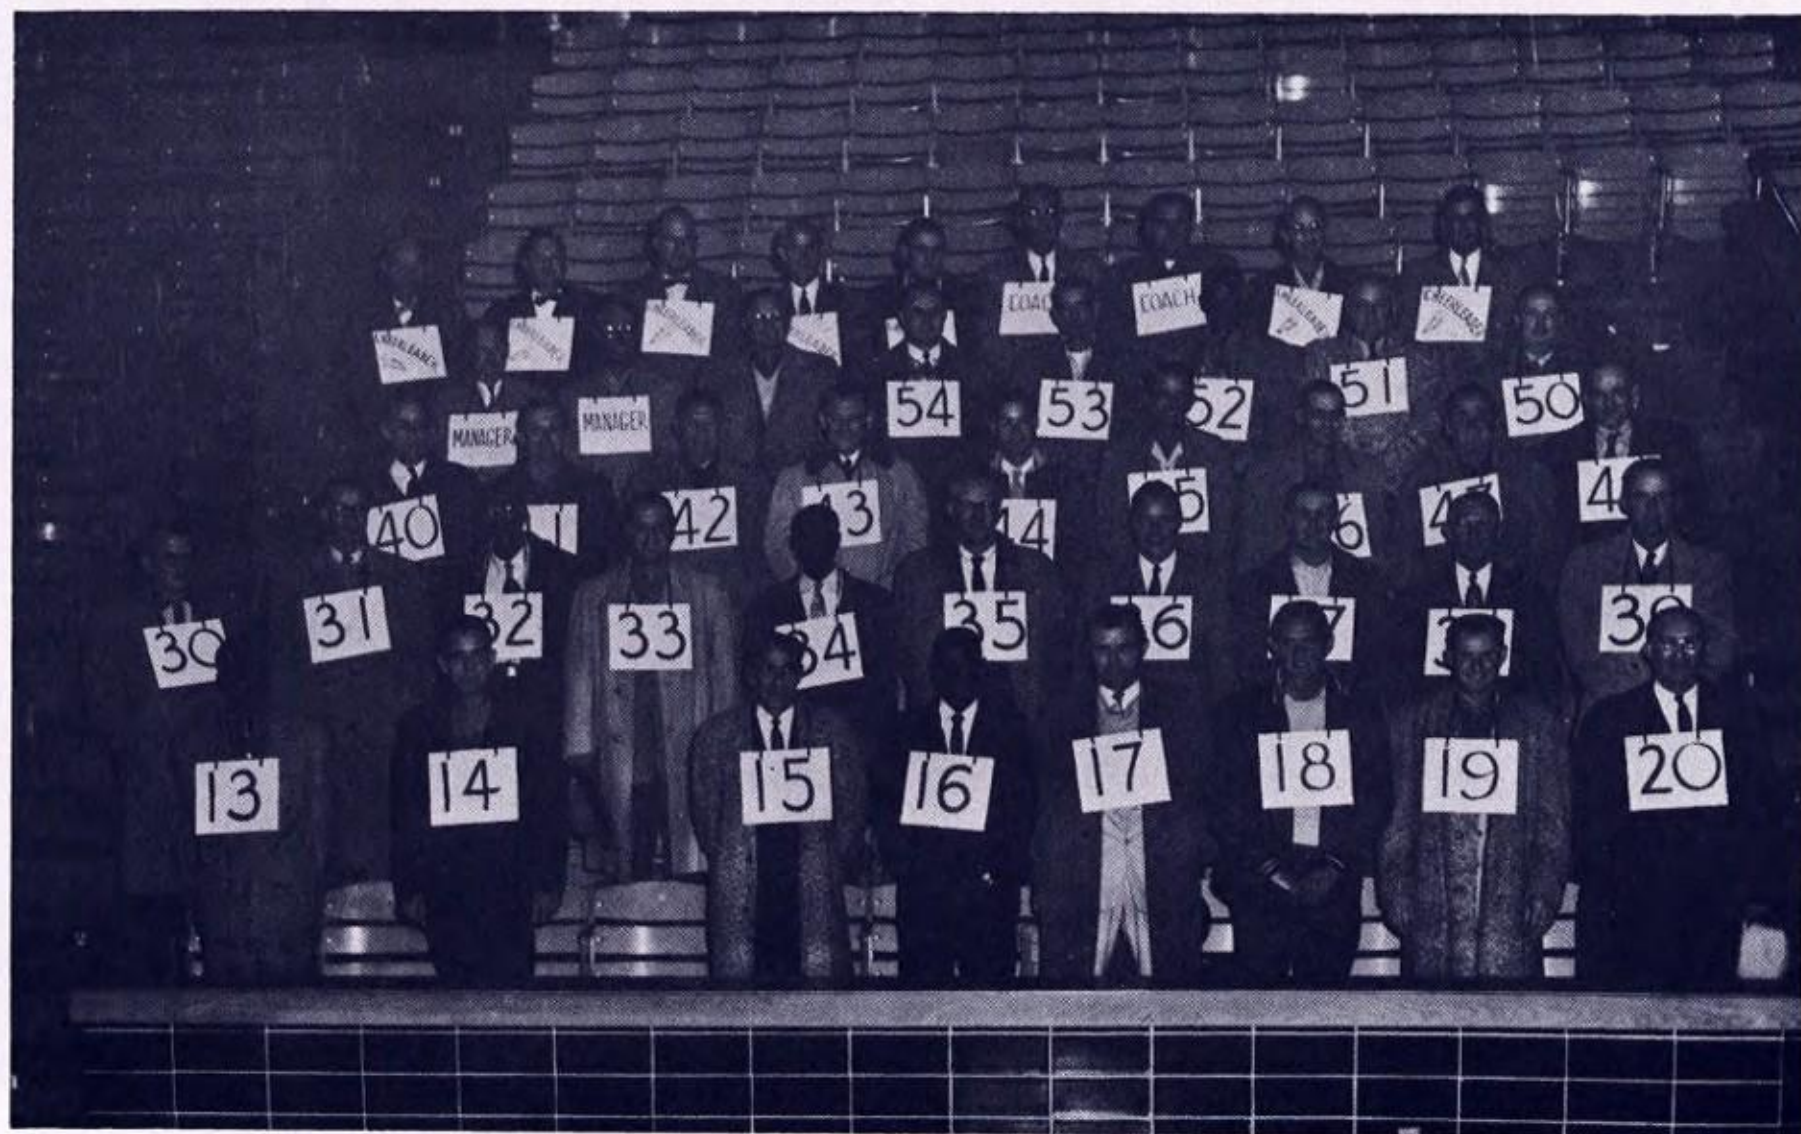

They were given special seats in the stadium for the game where they watched the Indians go down to defeat at the hands of the Wildcats, 23-16.

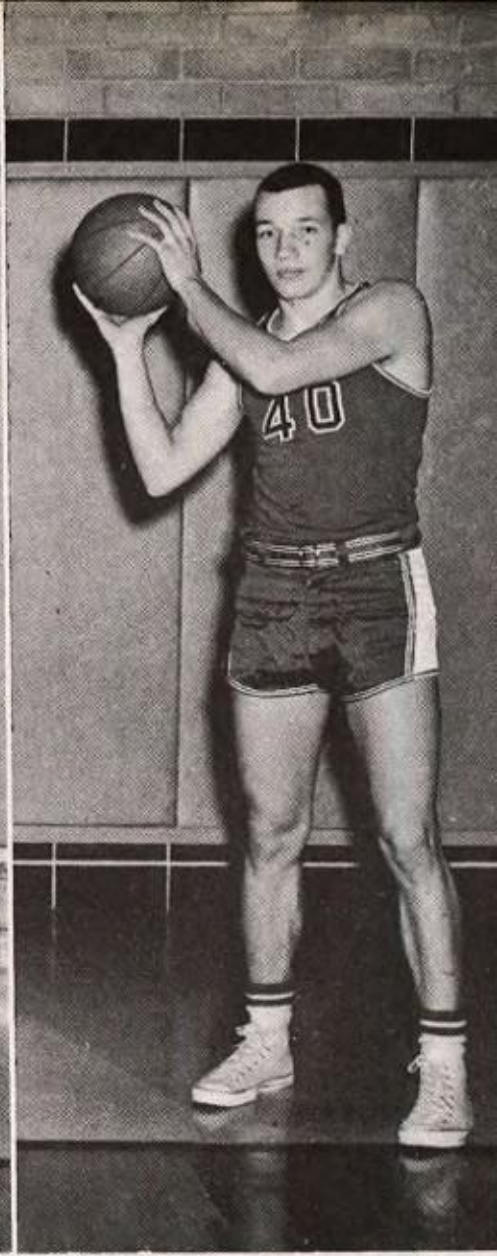

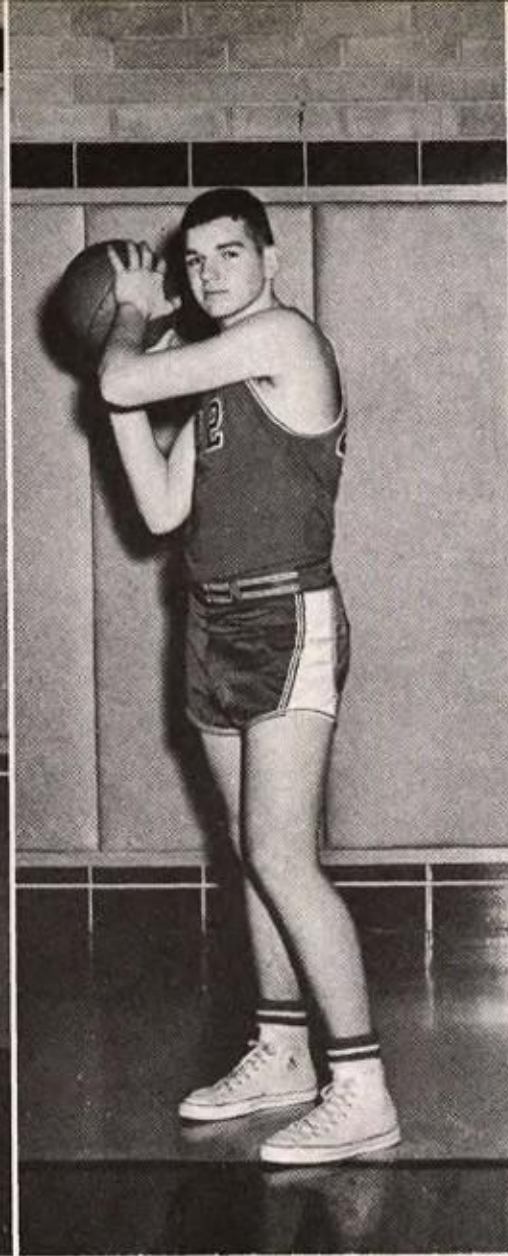

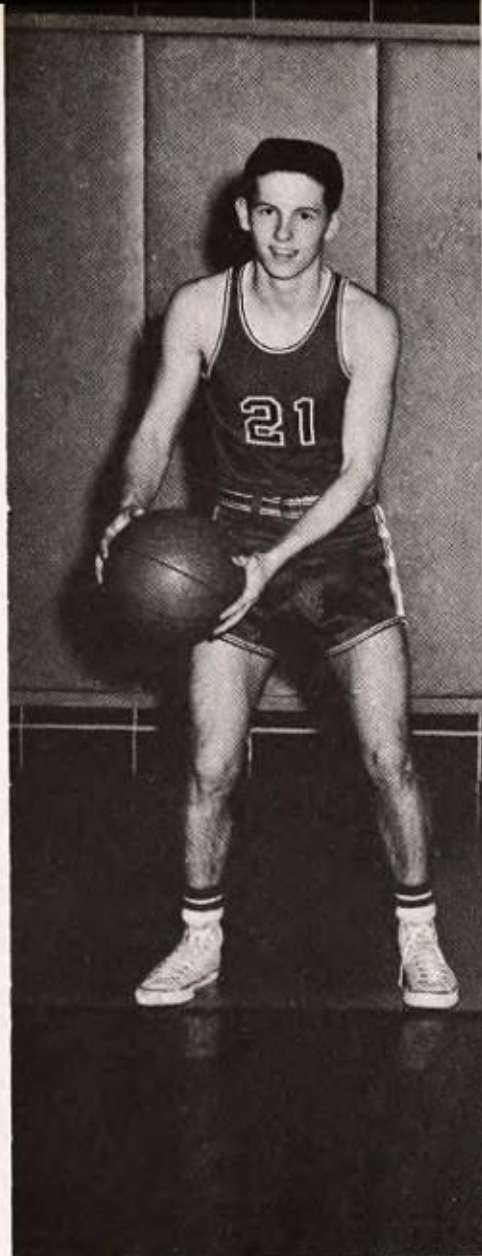

Proud dads are escorted from the field by the majorettes and Steppettes before the game.

The varsity basketball team ended a winning season with twelve wins and seven losses. They finished second in Western Buckeye League competition with five league victories and two losses.

The first half of the season was a period of ups and downs with five wins and five losses, but as the year drew to a close, things began to look up as the cagers won seven out of nine games including two close ones against Van Wert and Wapakoneta.

In the Class AA Sectional Tournament, Shawnee again beat St. Marys and also Wapakoneta but lost a hard fought game to Lima Central Catholic, 38 to 43.

Three Indians received special honors. Dick Cassie was chosen for the Western Buckeye all league team and the Class AA all area team. Tom Moothart placed on the Western Buckeye League's second team, and Ken Waltz received honorable mention.

Reserves First In League

The reserve basketball squad ended the season successfully with twelve wins and six losses in spite of a poor start during which they lost five of their first nine games. Then the team caught fire and came back to win eight and lose only to Lima Senior High. In the Christmas Tournament at Kenton; however, the tribe lost to both Upper Sandusky and Ada.

The Indian reserves finished in first place in Western Buckeye competition, winning many close contests including those with Kenton, Bellefountain, and St. Marys.

The freshman basketball team compiled a good record this year with nine victories and seven defeats. After losing their first three games to Van Wert, Lima Central, and Wapakoneta, the hard fighting Indians came back to win their next four before losing to Lima South. The team won a close game with Bath and then defeated Kenton and Columbus Grove. Losses to Lima Central and Perry followed.

In the tournament at Celina, Shawnee was runnerup after beating Sidney and Coldwater, but losing to Celina.

Long-Winded Indians Run Many Country Miles

Cross Country, a rather new sport at Shawnee, is gaining interest. Twenty-two Indians participated in its competition this year.

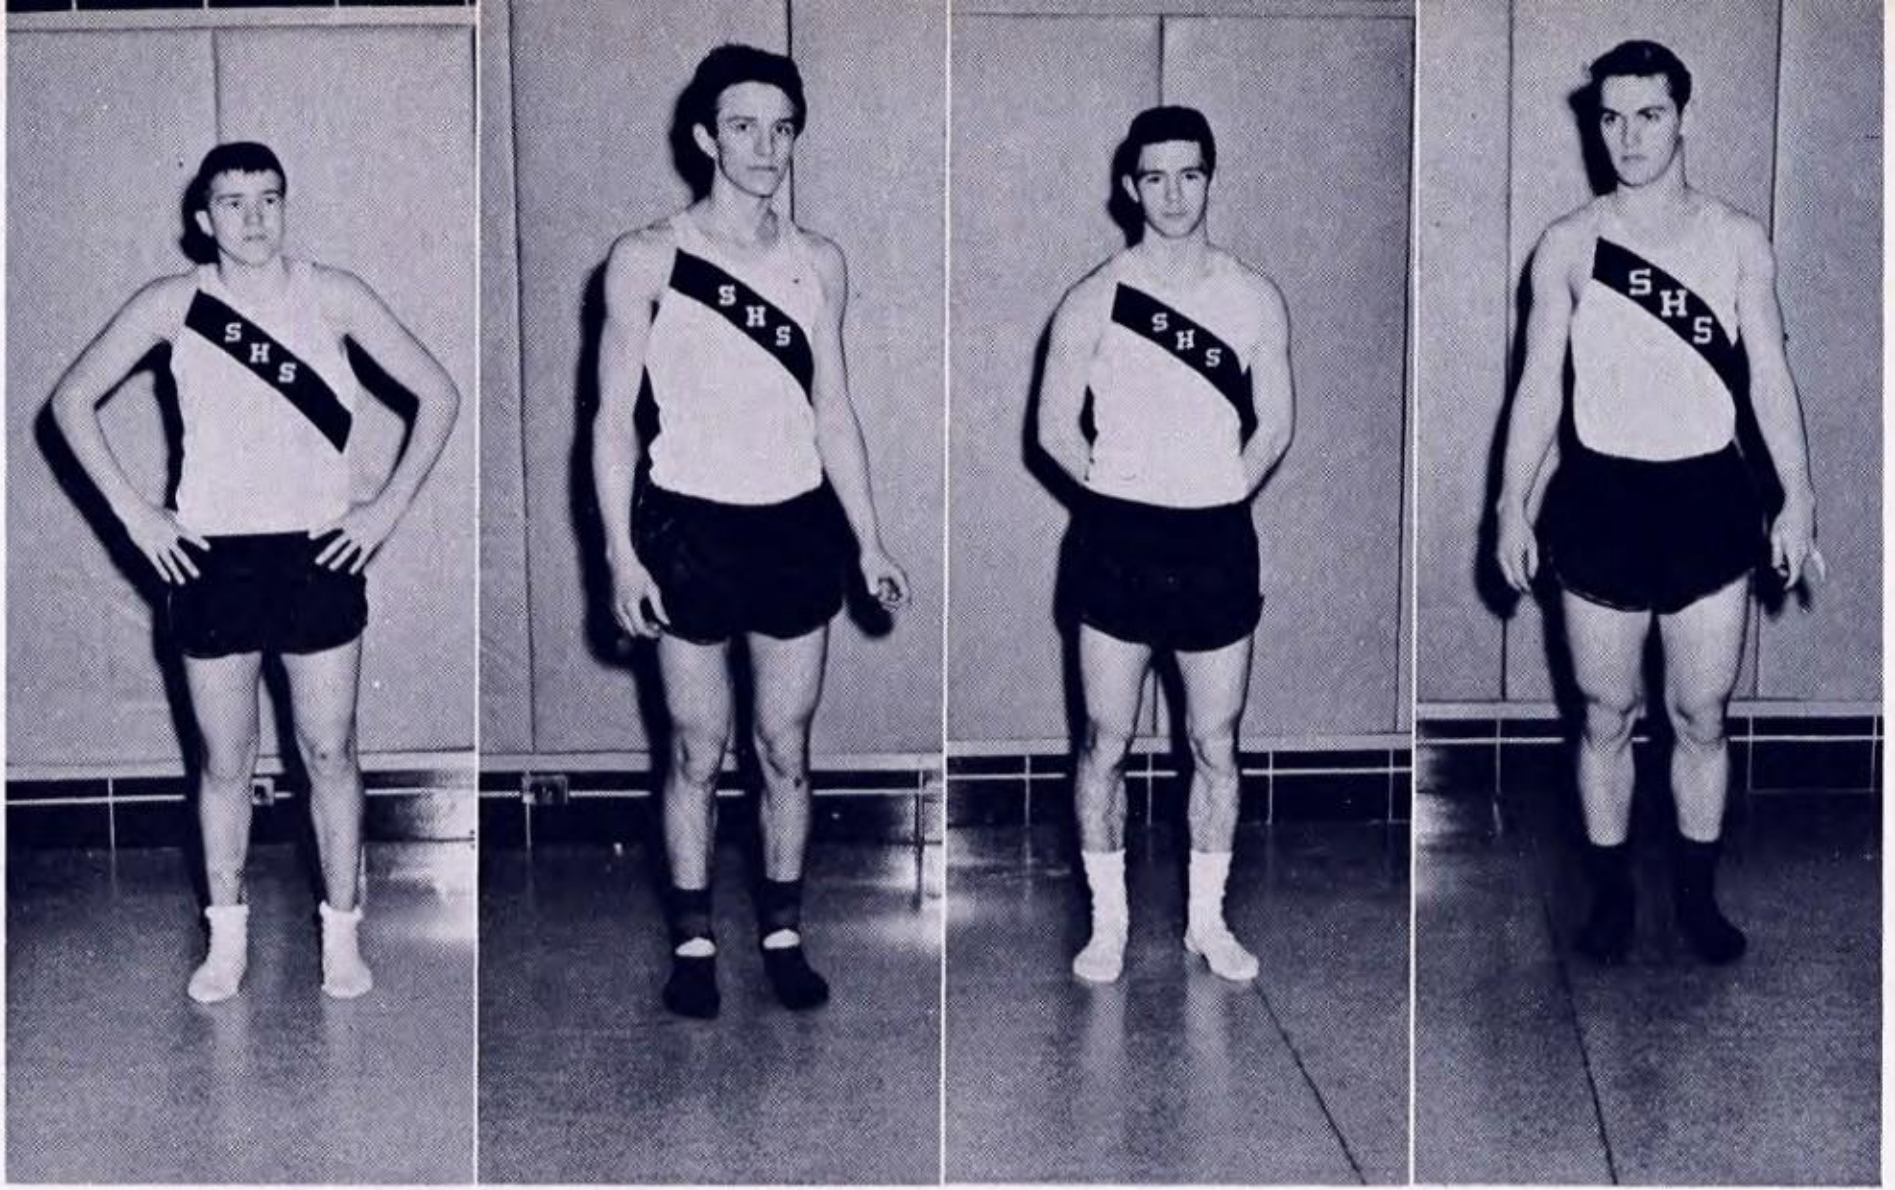

The harriers survived a hard season losing three meets without winning any. They finished third in a meet with McGuffey, Lima Senior High, and Ridgeway, and thirteenth in the district meet.

The squad produced four lettermen. To earn a letter, a runner must receive 150 points or better in competition. Ten members of the squad ran their way into the Century Club which requires a total of one hundred miles during the season.

G A A Teaches Good Sportsmanship

"Objectives: To promote sportsmanship, skill, pleasure, and fun" states the constitution as the purpose of the Girls' Athletic Association. These aims are very effectively carried out by one of the most active clubs of Shawnee Senior High.

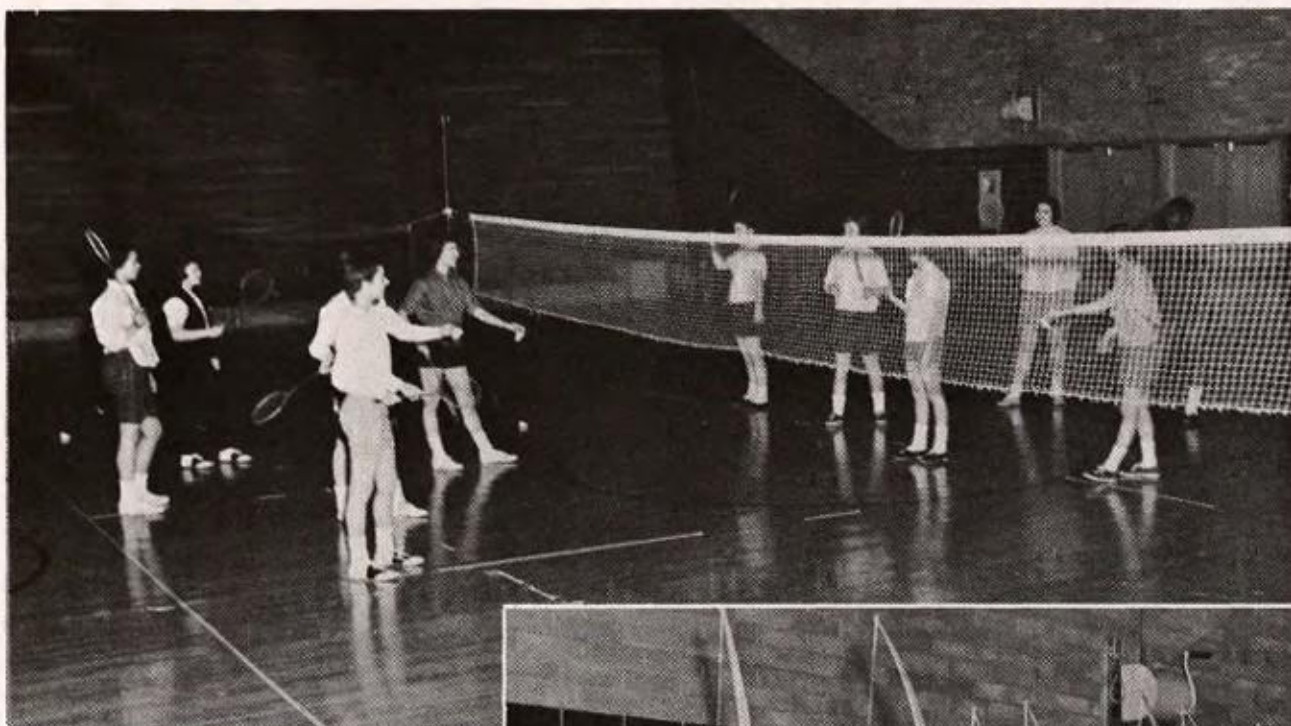

Softball, basketball, volleyball, table tennis, and archery are some of the many sports which are included in the G.A.A.'s program.

Points are given each girl when she does such things as playing, scoring, refereeing, or timing in G.A.A. games. Extra points may be earned by working in the concession stand for home football and basketball games. At the end of the first year, six-hundred points are necessary for the award of numerals. Succeeding awards are letters, pins, and stuffed animals.

G.A.A. gives all girls an equal opportunity to participate in competitive sports. The lessons learned are invaluable.

Nancy Brooks, President;
Miss Reinhardt, Adviser;
Mary DeWeerd, Secretary;
Joyce Riffle, Treasurer;
Janice Edgington, Vice-President.

G A A Cagers Attained Outstanding Record

Each year the Girls' Athletic Association has a Varsity and a Reserve basketball team. After long and difficult tryouts, 25 girls were chosen for the teams — 11 for the Varsity, 14 for the Reserve. Both teams practiced regularly on Saturdays and after G.A.A. meetings. Under Miss Reinhardt's fine coaching, these girls gained many wins in basketball and also in several volleyball games played against other G.A.A. teams.

Trampoline Adds New Challenge

The trampoline team provided exciting entertainment during basketball half-times. These students practiced long strenuous hours to master their precision routines; even a little skilled clowning was attempted this year. This squad never failed to thrill and amaze audiences with their double flips, brannies, and other difficult stunts.

Block "S" And Cheerleaders

In this its second year, the Block "S" took its place as one of the biggest assets to Shawnee's basketball teams. This group was composed of some 100 enthusiastic girls who sat in a section of the temporary bleachers at all home basketball games. Members wore red and black sweaters and arranged themselves in a red "S" on a black background. They practiced Friday mornings during homeroom under the direction of Janice Lippincott, Suzy Evans, and Miss Reinhardt. This year the "S" successfully executed colorful flashcard stunts. This organization did much to back the cheerleaders in boosting team spirit.

Support Teams

The Shawnee Indian war chant echoed throughout northwestern Ohio as the spirited student body supported its valiant warriors. This year's cheerleaders were instrumental in achieving an especially enthusiastic "Indian" spirit. A bonfire rally, a snake dance, and numerous pep assemblies helped to make '58-'59 a successful year.

Most Of All We Remember Shawnee

The school year 1958-59 brought many new students to Shawnee. The picture above is representative of the number of all the "first year" Indians.

As the years pass by, the memories of our school days grow fonder and fonder. From that eventful day when we entered the first grade, our lives were continually altered by the everyday occurrences at school.

Actually very few of us were in Shawnee for all twelve grades, but we all cherish the years we were there-studying, making new friends, and living together.

For many students the year of '58-'59 holds special meaning. This was the year our basketball team placed second in the Western Buckeye League, the year that many of our students received high scholastic honors, the year of two exceptional plays-"Gammer Gurton's Needle" and "Anastasia", the year the seniors built a beautiful float for the Homecoming game.

As spring drew near and plans were made for graduation, we of the senior class began to realize how much our school actually meant to us. Soon we would be out on our own in the wide, wide world. It is true we all had many trying times, but struggle is life itself, and we learn to live only by living.
